

Create a Crankie, Save Our Water with Oanh Vu

Outdoor Activity:

Observe a body of water, a lake, a stream, a creek, a pond, or even rain or a puddle. What do you notice? Use all your senses. What do you feel?

Write a short gratitude poem, like a haiku (a short three-lined poem), for the water. Here's an example:

*thank you water
you give life and beauty
we will care for you*

Call to Action: Protect the Water

We challenge you to learn more about pipelines and how they affect our water. Check out stopline3.org to learn more.

Then, talk to 5 friends, family, or neighbors about pipelines and share your gratitude poem.

Or, make a yard sign or protest to support Water Protectors working to keep our water clean and safe.
